Methodist Episcopal Church Notes.

The morning sermon upon "Looking Toward the End," the text being found in Jeremiah 51, was full of helpful thoughts and made more than one of the audience do a little serious thinking. A very large proportion of life's failures are due to the fact that a great majority of men do not anticipate results, do not take into consideration the consequences that may follow their acts. No man should trust his moral and spiritual fortune to a turn of the wheel, so to speak. We should never lose sight of the possible consequences of what we do. We ought to ask ourselves very frequently, "What will the harvest be?" If we would do this more often and seriously, what different men and women we would be. There is something in the soul of every man, no matter how degraded he may be, which tells him that this life does not end all, and that after death there will be another existence. We have no reason to expect another chance here if we do not use the one we have been given here. The harbor of eternity has but two harbors and your bark must run into one of these. Which shall it be?

The evening address was upon "The Church and a War-Distracted World." We were told that this had been prepared for a preacher's meeting and was being practiced upon us. Those who had the opportunity of listening to this optimistic forward look at the future of the church when the war shall have ended, will always be glad to have similar addresses practiced upon them.

At the election of a lay delegate to attend the convention to be held at Montpelier on March 31, B. J. Jenness was chosen delegate and Mrs. C. B. Webster, reserve.

Ninety-two in Sunday school on a stormy Sunday is certainly very encouraging.

Teachers' Examinations.

Examinations of applicants for teachers' certificates will be held at Barton academy Thursday and Friday, March 24 and 30. C. E. Erwin, Superintendent.

Sugar and Butter Winners in Orleans County

The Monitor has been unable until now to give a complete list of Orleans county winners of prizes at the recent Sugar Makers' meeting in Brattleboro and the Vermont Dairymen's meeting in Burlington.

In sugar-making Orleans county ranks at the top in quantity and is not far behind in quality. The highest score awarded in a possible 100 for syrup was to E. B. Perry of Ira with a score of 99. Only three others registered higher than the Orleans county product of N. K. Salmon of West Glover with a score of 97 1/2. Other county winners in the syrup class were Leo Luxford and Edward Gravin of Newport Center with scores of 95 1/2 each and Edmund Day of Derby with a score of 94 1/2. In the sugar class Mr. Perry of Ira again took first prize, but Arthur Salmon of West Glover scored next with 97 points, and we note two other county winners in this class. The scale for scoring maple sugar is flavor 60, color 15, grain 15, package 10. In judging syrup the following marking points are used: Flavor 60, color 15, body 20, package 5. At the dairy meeting in Burlington, 87 samples of butter were exhibited in two classes, dairy and creamery. Two samples only were exhibited from this county in the creamery class and they were scored as follows: L. D. Turnbull, Orleans, 94, and H. E. McNamara of Orleans, 93. The highest score was 97 1/2 and the lowest 89, the average being 94 1/2. There were no entries in the dairy class from Orleans county.

PROHIBITION ENTHUSIASM CREATED.

Dr. Madison Swadener of Indiana and Ex-Gov Patterson of Tennessee spoke to an audience that filled the seating capacity of the main floor of Seaver's hall last evening and the main points scored were enthusiastically applauded.

Seated upon the rostrum with the speakers were F. W. Cutting, E. R. Cook, Rev. W. A. Warner, C. L. Erwin, F. Jay Bates, Dr. J. A. Pearson, and Wallace H. Gilpin who introduced the speakers. The first to give his address was Dr. Swadener. He characterized the liquor traffic as undesirable, a liability and a drain, and said that for every dollar received by the state or nation as revenue, two dollars had been expended to pay for the wreckage caused by such traffic. He told in fiery terms of the ruining of his own boyhood home by liquor and of his determination to fight it to the finish.

The speaker then explained the practical side of the situation in the country at the present time with regard to the fight against the liquor traffic. After many years of warfare, he said the psychological moment had come when by a concerted effort the fight for a national amendment for prohibition could be pushed to a successful conclusion. The liquor traffic realized that the fight to a finish was now at hand and had appropriated $50,000,000 as a war fund. Dr. Swadener then explained how the national amendment was necessary to make effective state legislation and how with the proper support the fight would be concluded in five years. The pledge cards for the five-year campaign were then distributed.

Former Governor Malcolm R. Patterson of Tennessee then delivered an interesting and eloquent address, explaining in the beginning his change of attitude with regard to prohibition and denouncing the liquor traffic and the American saloon as the most degraded and most degrading influence in American life today. The speaker stated that he was not a reformed drunkard, that he had drunk as had most of the men with whom he had been associated, but that with the entering into his life of religion, his drinking had ceased and his attitude had so changed that he would rather be a humble instrument to destroy the liquor traffic than to hold the highest office in the gift of the American people. He told how the time had passed when a man was responsible only for his own actions and of the passing of the feeling that every man could do as he pleased. A telling point was made by the speaker in his contrast of the states of Kansas and Missouri, which lie side by side, and in the former of which prohibition has been in force for many years while high license laws have been in effect in the latter. Kansas does not owe a dollar of public debt, has one hundred dollars on deposit for every person within its borders and every farmer out of every five owns an automobile.

In closing, Governor Patterson impressed on his hearers the fact that the eyes of the nation would be on Vermont at the coming election and urged them to disregard the worn-out arguments of the liquor interests, to vote for prohibition in Vermont and thus forge a link in the chain of states which would some day ratify a national amendment for prohibition.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a food sale in H. T. Seaver's store Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

H. P. Baldwin was in Lyndonville Tuesday to visit his mother, Mrs. Ann Baldwin, who is very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Rowen of Barre have been spending several days in town calling upon friends.

County Organize to Support Perry Measure.

About 25 representative men from towns throughout Orleans county met at the parlors of the Orleans club at Orleans Saturday afternoon, Feb. 21, and effected an organization to be known as the Orleans County Statewide Prohibition association. Messages were received from several prominent men who were unable to be present. The meeting was called to order by C. S. Skinner, Republican state committeeman from Orleans county. M. M. Tapin was elected president of the association and Colby Stoddard was chosen as secretary. The following committee were elected: Finance committee, C. D. French of Orleans, F. M. Sears of Irasburg and H. H. Lewis of Troy; executive committee, C. S. Skinner of Orleans, R. M. Cowles of Albany, John R. Aiken of Newport, Rev. William Miller of Troy, George Russell of Irasburg, T. F. Bourke of Derby Line, Solon Gray of Morgan, A. C. Chase of Greensboro and A. E. French of Westmore. A service committee consisting of a member from each town was chosen as follows: Albany, Charles Smith; Barton, W. H. Gilpin; Brownstown, Roscoe Dutton; Craftsburg, J. B. Holter; Coventry, George Benware; Craftsburg, C. H. Root; Derby, L. P. Jenne; Glover, Samuel Vance; Holland, E. A. Ferrin; Irasburg, C. H. Hannant; Jay, Rev. H. I. Kemo; Lowell, George Curtis; Morgan, J. H. Gilmour; Newport, E. C. Blanchard; Troy, W. D. Miller; North Troy, H. H. Lewis; Westfield, W. E. Gilpin; Westmore, Rev. W. Rand. The purpose of the organization is to acquaint the people of Orleans county with the merits of the Perry bill, so called, which is to be voted upon at the coming town meetings throughout the state. The meeting Saturday afternoon was very enthusiastic and stirring appeals for temperance were made by the chair man and president and by Fred T. Caswell and Mr. O'Rourke of Derby Line; Editor Holland of the Standard Journal, Rev. William Miller of Troy, Rev. Mr. Rankin of Newport, E. C. Blanchard of Newport and many others. It was felt by all present that if the people of the county fully understood the matter the result on March 7 would be such as to give Orleans county a splendid rank as a temperance county. It was pointed out by several speakers, especially by Messrs. Caswell and Russell, both of whom helped make the Perry bill, that the new act does not return the state to the old prohibition days with their inadequate measures of enforcement. On the other hand the Perry act is a modern and progressive amendment to the present liquor law providing for a situation in which the whole state votes on the question of saloons. It is a majority rule amendment to the present law.

The following letters remain uncalled for at the postoffice. Please say advertised when calling for these letters: John C. Carpenter, Oranum Drew.

One of our most respected ladies, Mrs. Cordelia Cutler, passed her 83d birthday anniversary on St. Valentine's day with many pleasant reminders of affection from friends and relatives.

There will be a regular meeting of Crystal Lake Grange No. 411, P. of H. Friday evening at 8 o'clock sharp. Roll call to be answered by quotations from Washington. Question for discussion, "Woman's Suffrage."

The board of civil authority will meet at the town clerk's office Wednesday afternoon of next week to revise and correct the check list which is to be used at the coming March meeting on the primary bill and the Perry act.

Albert D. Elliott extends his thanks to friends who kindly helped at the time his leg was broken, Jan. 18. Also to the friends and neighbors for the fruit and flowers he has received. He says this little vacation will long be remembered.

Mrs. L. A. Chase, who has been ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Daisy Baldwin, returned to her home in Littleton Tuesday and Mrs. E. A. Wheeler, who had been here to help care for her mother, has returned to New Britain, Conn.

Mrs. Della Willson was most pleasantly surprised Thursday evening when several of her old friends called to remind her of her birthday. The evening was pleasantly spent and Mrs. Willson was presented with a large birthday cake with candles.

C. H. Blood was in Rutland Tuesday, returning home this morning with Mrs. Blood, who recently underwent an operation at the Rutland City hospital. During Mrs. Blood's stay in the hospital, Miss Lida Warner, who is in training there, and expects to graduate soon, was her almost constant attendant.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. White, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Barrows, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Batchelder, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Carter and Mrs. Cora Winslow were among those who were in St. Johnsbury Saturday to attend the United Commercial Travelers' minstrel show.

The coldest snap of the season was experienced Sunday night. Some report their thermometers registering as low as 38 below Monday morning. The cold did not last, however, and zero told the story the next morning with a continual moderation since. A heavy small fall of snow has helped delayed lumbering operations slightly.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bridgman of Hardwick celebrated their golden wedding on Feb. 11, when a large number of their relatives and friends met at the Memorial building in the G. A. R. room to help them celebrate the same. Mr. Bridgman is commander of the Grand Army of Republic Post and both Mr. and Mrs. Bridgman are earnest workers for the good of the community in which they live. They were for many years residents of Barton, living on the farm now owned by R. M. Gilmour.

Twenty-nine members of the Afternoon Study club and four visitors met at the home of Mrs. C. A. Barrows Thursday. The program for the afternoon was "Woman in Philanthropy." Roll call, "Some deed of kindness done." Mrs. Ellen Webster and Mrs. F. W. Baldwin gave excellent papers on "Fifty Years of Heroic Womanhood." Mrs. Ruth Webster, Mrs. Banche Webster and Miss Clemma Seaver told in an interesting manner how very young children of different nationalities were cared for, Mrs. Ruth Webster giving a demonstration showing how a Turkish infant was dressed and how Mrs. J. M. Blake favored the club with a song. A story was read by Mrs. J. F. Batchelder.

The meeting of The Woman's Literary club held on Feb. 9th with Miss Clemma Seaver was a Valentine party under the management of a committee, who arranged a delightful program. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion. The members responded to roll call by giving an original verse for Valentine. "A Legend of St. Valentine" was read by Miss Seaver; "What is Waiting here for me?" Mrs. Stannard and Mrs. Batchelder; reading, "Kidnapping a Cook," Miss Ferrin; solo, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," Mrs. Ruth Webster. All present were then invited to take part in "A Magazine Romance," which proved very interesting. Refreshments were served by the hostess. Confectionery was passed, each piece being wrapped in paper on which was written a fortune that was later read aloud by the recipient. Thirty-two members and four visitors enjoyed the occasion.
